CLASSIFICATION

(U) Graphic Title

(U) This table is for placing graphics (other than photos), when the graphics are not created by (b)(3):10 USC 424 The classification, title, and caption text are editable in Microsoft Word. Make sure the caption is not redundant with or contradictory to the title. Select the placeholder chart in the table row above, and replace it with maps, charts, or other graphics. The classification, graphic, and caption should not break across pages. This table does not have a text wrap assigned to it. Right click and scroll down to "Table Properties" if adjustments are necessary.

UNCLASSIFIED

(U) Introductory Phrase. Captions are required for photos but are optional for other types of graphics. Make sure the caption is not redundant with or contradictory to the title, if one is provided. Use this table to embed your graphic, its classification, and a caption. This table does not have a text wrap assigned to it. Right click and scroll down to "Table Properties" if adjustments are necessary.

UNCLASSIFIED

(U) This is a 3-inch-wide table. It can be positioned relative to paragraph text within a document. It should be on the right-hand side of the document page. This table has a text wrap assigned to it. Right click and scroll down to "Table Properties" if adjustments are necessary.

(U) Administrative Note

(U) This optional tone box can be used to highlight nonsubstantive administrative items related to the product that add value for the reader. It is a single-row table. Manually bold and center the tone box title inside this table. Every tone box will have a portion-marked title. Apply (b)(3):10 USC 424 paragraph style to the tone box text.

(U) Data Tables

(U) Data Table: Title ¹
Heading	Heading	Heading	Heading	Heading	Heading
Text	Text	Text	Text	Text	Text

(U) When you work on a very long table, it will be divided onto several pages. You can make adjustments to the table so that the table headings appear on each page. Select the first row of the table (classification portion marking) down to the heading row or rows that you want to repeat on each page, open Table Properties, open Row tab, and select “Repeat as header row at the top of each page.”

(b)(3):10 USC 424; (b)(3):50 USC 3024(i)

(U) Appendix

(U) This template is set up for appendixes, if needed. Begin each appendix on a new page. If the document has multiple appendixes, identify them using "Appendix A," "Appendix B," etc. If the document has only one appendix, just use "Appendix." After the appendix label, provide a title on the same line, such as "(U) Appendix: Terminology."

(U) Appendix Second-Level Heading

(U) Organize appendix text like body text, using headings as needed. Ensure that headings are followed by two or more lines of text. If necessary, insert a page break before the heading to move it and its block of text to the next page. Products created in HTML format do not have page breaks.
