

per. I informed your Excellency in my advise of yesterday that the British fleet after staying off & on had returned to port on the 18th.

They sailed again in the evening & night of the same day, bearing their course southerly.

On the 20th in the afternoon, some were seen on their return, from this it was concluded the whole fleet were following. But three frigates only reached the port this morning. It is believed the fleet will come to the West Indies.

Capt Dennis will explain to your Excellency the report of a small recruitment leaving the hook for of cardinals. I have the honor
